Waste Management Drivers on the Lookout

Waste Management of Utah (WM) has begun a community safety and crime prevention partnership in which its waste collection truck drivers will act as additional eyes and ears for local law enforcement authorities. It's called "Waste Watch," a program in which its drivers will be looking and listening for emergency situations and suspicious activity observed during their daily routes along the Wasatch Front. Each Waste Management truck is equipped with either a 2-way radio or cell phone, providing constant communication between the driver and WM dispatch. Drivers are trained what to look for and how to report certain incidents and when it's appropriate to call 911, and when they should call WM dispatch, who will then contact the proper authorities. Their call can save a life, prevent an injury, or stop a criminal act.

Waste Watch works because it's a partnership between Waste Management, law enforcement, emergency services, and other neighborhood watch programs. Waste Watch enhances WM's relationships in the community and provides added value to existing services.

Special Recognition

Sandy City is pleased to recognize a recent Lifetime Achievement Award Winner. Chief William E. "Bill" Clough is a life-long resident of Sandy who started with the Sandy Fire Department in 1956. He became Fire Chief in the mid 1960's and in 1974 became the first full-time firefighter and Fire Chief. He retired in 1988 after 32 years of service, 20 of those as Chief. Chief Clough is unselfish with his time and energy in helping to organize little league baseball, Christmas parties at local elementary schools and 4th of July parades and fireworks. We are proud to have Chief Clough as such an integral part of our history and appreciate his service to the citizens of Sandy.
